

LI-BE S.p.A. is committed to minimize the impact of its activities on the environment.

For this reason LI-BE S.p.A. has established the steps and the procedures for the Environmental Management System, which is proposed to be a guideline.

In this way we want to avoid all those events, even the least significant, arising from the production cycle that can be considered an environmental risk.

All this in the respect and compliance of the requirements of UNI EN ISO 14001:2004, the international standard on environmental management systems.

The key points of our strategy to achieve this are:

- implement and keep an effective Environmental Management System in accordance with the requirements of UNI EN ISO 14001/2004;
- define responsibilities and procedures to ensure adequate management of direct and indirect environmental aspects in connection to LI-BE activities;
- make available the financial resources and expertise that guarantee the right functioning of its Environmental Management System;
- check the environmental performance of the site, the efficiency of environmental management system and its effectiveness against its objectives through environmental audits
- continuous control on the environmental impact resulting from business activities;
- ensure cooperation with public authorities;
- ensure that its activities are managed in strict accordance with existing environmental legislation and in accordance with any good practice agreements;
- continuous effort to improve its environmental performance by setting targets for improvement;
- increase awareness and involvement of staff to the environmental issues;
- raise maximum attention of all interested parties such as outside population and inside workforce, towards environmental protection;
- place utmost importance to the characteristics of the territory;
- ensure that the environmental policy exposed here and its management system are understood, implemented and adopted at all organizational levels and that the system is supported by regular and systematic training activities;
- ensure that this document is communicated and made available to the public and to the people working within the company or on its behalf.
